FRIDAY, JULY, 6 1866.

THE Democratic members of Congress have issued an address endorsing the COWAN-DOOLITTLE call for a National Convention.

THE bans of marriage between the Democratic party and the Johnson Union party have been duly published. The consummation will take place at the Philadelphia National Convention.

JEFFERSON.—The Republicans of this county held their nominating Convention on Monday last. Congressional conferees appointed and instructed for Mr. Schofield. C. Fogle nominated for the Legislature and conferees instructed for him.

HUNTINGDON.—The Democrats of this county, on Tuesday last, nominated for Assembly, John S. Miller; Associate Judge, Samuel Brooks; Prothonotary, A. C. Greenland; Congressional Conferees, not instructed, but they are understood to be for Mr. Pershing, of Johnstown, as the compromise candidate.

THE Philadelphia Press makes a suggestion which will excite attention, when it says:

"Grave rumors to the effect that large sums of money have been realized out of the public funds, and that a wide system of corruption has prevailed among the agents of the Treasury in the Southwest, will necessitate a drastic and searching investigation, and will probably render it necessary to maintain in this city a committee after the manner of that on the conduct of the war, which, clothed with plenary powers, can take cognizance of all such questions."

THE Raleigh, North Carolina, Standard says of Reconstruction and the Constitutional Amendment:

"We prefer the President's plan. We are for that plan against all others. But if we cannot get it, we will take the Howard amendment, because we know that if we reject it the terms thereafter imposed will be much harder than any we have yet feared. Is not this view reasonable? Who says nay to it?"

The "Howard amendment" spoken of is the amendment to the Consttitution in the shape it passed Congress. The view taken of it is decidedly sensible.

Medical Munchausens
Abound in every city and every place where there are people to be imposed upon and where diseases are rife. All sorts of medicines are advertised as the very thing that will cure, and thus the sick man easily beguiled, and "catching at straws," is often deprived of his money as well as health at one swoop. Not so with "Dr. Keyser's Blood Searcher." It does all that it promises and more. It has its cures among the people where it is made. It is making new cures every day; and cures of the most malignant and terrible diseases—such as cancers, white swellings, scrofula, tetters, old and stubborn ulcers that for years have resisted all treatment, and have been the opprobium of medical science and learning. Try Dr. Keyser's Blood Searcher and you will never regret it. If one bottle don't help you try another, and if that don't cure you go and see the Doctor himself, and he will tell you what will. Mr. Boyd did this and he got cured after three years suffering. John Griffin did it and was raised from a bed from which he could not be moved for three years. Elliott Davis did it and was cured of a disease that had afflicted him for twenty years.

A daughter of Mr. McFarland's was restored to health after seven years of suffering. So terrible was she afflicted that she could not wear shoes on her feet, besides hundreds of others whom to name would occupy too much space, and would not convince any one if the cures we have already published do not do so. Dr. Keyser's Blood Searcher is the very King of Tonics. Under its use the brain gathers new energy, the nervous system is again restrung to the harmony of health; the once torpid liver flies the bile from the jaundiced blood, and tone and healthful activity are imparted to the whole alimentary canal. The enfeebled stomach takes on renewed action under its health-giving power, and secretes abundant of gastric juice to digest the food. What it will do is not half told. What it won't do is not worth doing. In brief, it will restore to a healthy state the blood, "the crimson sluice of life," and with it the healthful performance of every function belonging thereto. Ask for Dr. Keyser's Blood Searcher at 120 Wood street, and take no other. One dollar per bottle—six for five dollars.

The Great Acclimating Tonic.
Wherever Hostetter's Bitters, the celebrated American prevention of Climatic Diseases, have been introduced into unhealthy regions, their effects in sustaining the health, vigor, and animal spirits of those whose pursuits subjected them to extraordinary risks from exposure and privation, have been wonderful. In the army the superiority of this article over every other invigorating and alterative medicine has become so manifest where used, that it is relied upon, exclusively, as a protection against Billious Fever, Fever and Ague, and Bowel complaints of every kind. The soldiers say it is the only stimulant which produces and keeps up a healthy habit of body in unwholesome locations. For the unacclimated pioneer and settler it is the most reliable of all safeguards against sickness. Throughout the United States it is considered the most healthful and agreeable of all tonics, and altogether unequaled as a remedy for Dyspepsia. The medicinal ingredients are all vegetable, and are held in solution by the most wholesome stimulant known—the Essence of Rye. "Hostetter's Bitters" are manufactured at Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania, and no less than 30,000 dozen bottles are sold annually by druggists.

Hostetter's Bitters
Are sold wholesale and retail at very low rates at Fleming's Drug and Patent Medicine Depot, No. 84 Market street, corner of the Diamond and Market, near Fourth street.

THE PORTLAND CONFLAGRATION.

The Progress of the Flames.

AID FOR THE SUFFERERS.

PORTLAND, June 5.—The fire commenced a little below the foot of High street. It next burned Upham's flouring mill, and then Brown's sugar house, with all its surroundings, then Staples & Sou's and Richardson's founderies, and nothing else of any consequence on Commercial street. It next swept what is called Graham's corner, composed of smaller wooden buildings, clean. It then burned up as far as the old Barnum House, on Pleasant street, travelled the way up Centre street, half the way up Cotton street, completely up Cross, Union, Temple and Exchange streets, it swept down on the northerly side of Fire street to India street on the east, while on the west it moved along diagonally across Middle street and down to Cumberland, taking the Elm House, but sparing the First Parish Church; then from Chestnut to North street. It made a clean sweep on the southerly side of Cumberland street, and the same was the case with Congress street and everything else to Fire street, as far east as India street. It is almost impossible to tell where the people lived, the ruin and destruction is so complete. Davis, Baxter & Co., on Fire street, wholesale dealers in fancy articles, set down their loss at $25,000, which is fully insured in the Ætna Insurance Company of Hartford, and the Hampden Company of Springfield.

PORTLAND, Me., July 5.—The upper side of five streets is swept clean to India street, except two buildings on the corner of India street. Woods' Marble Hotel, the Freedmen House, the American House, the Commercial House, the Starteveant House, and Kingsbury's Hotel are destroyed. Congress street, from Chestnut street to the Observatory, is cleared on both sides. Not a building is standing on Exchange street. Federal street is entirely destroyed, as is Cumberland street, from Pearl street to the hill, on both sides. Union, Plum, Temple, Lime and Silver streets are entirely cleared, and Franklin, from Fort to Oxford streets. All of the wholesale and many of the retail shoe stores are destroyed. A steam and hand engine came in from Saco, and hand engines from Biddeford, Gardiner, Brunswick and Hallowell.

BOSTON, July 5.—The terrible conflagration in Portland excites deep sympathy. A dispatch from the Mayor of Portland to Mayor Lincoln says: "Thousands of our people are homeless and hungry. Can you send us some bread and cooked provisions?" The response has been prompt and liberal as the time will allow. A large quantity of provisions in charge of A. Smith, the well known caterer, was forwarded by the three o'clock train, and further supplies will go to-night. Two thousand tents have also been forwarded by the United States military authorities. Generous contributions of money to purchase supplies are being received by Mayor Lincoln, who will see that it is properly used. The Adams Express Company offer to take, free of charge, any contributions for the sufferers by the Portland fire.

BOSTON, July 5.—Prompt measures have been taken to send liberal contributions of cooked and uncooked food from this city to Portland this afternoon, where several thousand people have been made homeless by the fire there, and who are also without food. Mayor Lincoln, the members of the city government and hundreds of private citizens are moving actively in the matter.

The Tammany Society Celebration in New York—Letters from President Johnson, Secretary Seward, General Grant and Others.

NEW YORK, July 5.—The following are the material portions of some of the acknowledgements of the Tammany Society's invitations to celebrate yesterday. President Johnson says:

SIR:—I thank you for the cordial invitation of the time honored Society of Tammany to participate with them in the celebration of the surpassing anniversary of our National Independence. The national tone and patriotic spirit of the invitation meets my hearty approval. They are indications of a growing public sentiment, which, now that the bitter strife of civil war has ceased, requires a renewal of pursuits of peace, a return to the constitution of our fathers, rigid adherence to its principles, profound reverence for its sacred obligations, a restored invigorated and permanent union, and a fraternity of feeling that shall make us a people one and indissoluble. There can be for the patriot no higher duty, no nobler work, than the obliteration of the passions and prejudices which, resulting from our late sanguinary conflict, have retarded reconciliation and prevented that complete restoration of all the States to their constitutional relation with the Federal Government, which is essential to the peace, unity, strength and prosperity of the nation.

Regretting that my public duties will not permit me to be present at your celebration, I am, Very respectfully, &c.,
ANDREW JOHNSON.

Gen. Grant simply directs his Secretary to express his regret that a previous engagement will oblige him to decline the honor.

Secretary Seward writes: I rejoice with the Society that the conduct of arms has ceased, that the authority of the government has been vindicated, and that the flag of the Union now floats triumphantly over every foot of national territory. On the other hand I mourn with the Society that the perfect Union given us by our patriotic forefathers has not yet been entirely restored; that eleven sovereign States are denied representation in the Federal Congress, and are not recognized as part of the national legislation. How strange this is. We have killed disunion outright, and have killed African slavery with it, and yet we are not completely reunited. If I did not feel assured that the American people cannot suffer so great and fatal a solecism to continue, I should say, as many others do, that we are at a crisis, but I have unbounded confidence in the wisdom and virtue of the American people. We have fallen into this state of disloyalty, not in excuse of their denial of representation, that the States and their chosen representatives still continue to be seditious and disloyal. That is Tennessee disloyal? It is Arkansas seditious? Are the Senators and Representatives of those States disloyal? I desire in this respect that each of the two Houses of Congress will apply the Constitutional test with all the improvements of legislation upon it, and thus admit those States and representatives who are loyal, and rejecting those against whom the crime of disloyalty shall be established.

"I believe with the Tammany Society, that the Union was created to be perpetual and that the States are equal under the Constitution, that the restoration of the Union by the recent war ought to be acknowledged and recognized by all the Departments of the Federal government; that a spirit of magnanimity and fraternity should prevail in all our councils, and tha the South having accepted the lessons of the war and relinquished the heresy of secession, should just so fast as she comes in the attitude of loyalty, and in persons of loyal and qualified representatives, be admitted to her constitutional representation.

"I want henceforth and forever no North, no South, no East, no West, no divisions and no sections, and no clashes, but one united and harmonious people."

Secretary Welles replied: "To the honor of your society, it has in all times and under all circumstances, in war and in peace, been faithful to the union of States and the rights of the States. At no period since its organization have its teachings and services been more required than at present, when the triumphant arms of the republic having suppressed the false theory that the Union can be divided by secession, the voluntary withdrawal of a State from its federal relations and obligations, we are compelled to encounter the opposite extreme of compulsory exclusion, by which the fanatics desire to keep seven States of the representatives in Congress which is guaranteed to them by the Constitution. This doctrine of compulsory exclusion is scarcely less offensive than that of voluntary secession—each is fatal to the perpetuity of the Union.

After a long and exhausting war which has cost us so much blood and treasure, the country needs repose, that industry, commerce and the parts of peace may revive and friendly relations between the States and people may be re-established. Friendly conference and mutual confidence is to be encouraged and must supercede hatred and revenge. No part of the States or people can be deprived of their just rights without producing estrangement.

CONGRESSIONAL PROCEEDINGS.

WASHINGTON, July 5, 1866.

SENATE.

On motion of Mr. Lane, of Indiana, a night session was ordered for Friday, for the consideration of the Pension bills.

Mr. Sherman, from the Committee of Conference on the Army Appropriation Bill, made a report, which was agreed to. Mr. Sherman said the bill was now substantially as it passed the Senate.

A resolution was adopted calling upon the President for information as to the number of American vessels destroyed by pirates off the China coast during the past year, and whether further legislation is necessary to prevent such depredations.

Mr. Pomeroy, from the Committee on public lands, reported a bill to extend the time for completing the agricultural college in Iowa, for the erection of which public lands were donated.

Mr. Pomeroy for the Committee on public lands reported a bill to amend an act granting lands to Minnesota for constructing a Railroad from St. Paul to Lake Superior. It provides that in case the lands along the line of the Road shall be found to have been previously granted for other purposes, other lands in the State not more than thirty miles distant from the road may be taken.

Mr. Wilson called up the House Joint resolution, declaring that the detail of a soldier or sailor as a clerk or other post duty shall not be construed to interfere with his right to bounty. Passed.

Mr. Wilson called up the joint resolution for the appointment of commissioners to examine and audit the claims of Massachusetts against the general government for coast defences.

Mr. Grimes moved to strike out the words "and audit." Agreed to.

As amended the resolution passed.

Mr. Wade spoke in favor of the repeal of the Retrocession act. He believed it to be unconstitutional. It required the consent of Maryland, Virginia and Congress to locate the capitol, and accept the ten miles square devoted for the purpose, and their joint consent was necessary to justify the retrocession. The necessity of protecting the graves of Union soldiers was one reason for reannexation.

After discussion, the further consideration of the pending bill was postponed until to-morrow.

Mr. Wilson introduced a resolution authorizing the Secretary of War to pay for soldiers held to service and labor, and drafted or enlisted during the war. Referred.

Mr. Howard said the Military Committee was strongly in favor of some equalization law. He believed one would be passed.

Mr. Poland called up the bill to provide for the payment of quartermasters' stores and supplies furnished to the armies of the United States. The pending question was to make the Secretary of War instead of the Quartermaster General, the auditing officer of such accounts. Disagreed to.

The Senate amendment appropriating money for the purchase of land for a fort near Nashville, was taken out. Some other amendments had been modified, but not in any important respect.

The Senate amendment, that the Superintendent of West Point may be detached from any branch of the service, was agreed to, with an amendment to include also other officers detailed as West Point.

Mr. Grimes inquired what had been done in regard to the House amendment prohibiting the payment of the Illinois Central Railroad for the transportation of troops and army stores.

Mr. Sherman said that the House receded from that.

The Conference Report was agreed to.

Mr. Trumbull offered an amendment by way of proviso, that claimants must establish their loyalty before having the claims allowed. Adopted.

Mr. Howard apposed the bill in a speech, in which he took ground that the Southern people had put themselves in the attitude of alien enemies of the United States, and that they were entitled to no pay for what was taken for the use of an invading army.

Mr. Hendricks spoke in favor of the bill. If any people were entitled to compensation it they were those who stood faithfully to the Government in the midst of the rebellion.

After further discussion, Mr. Wilson moved so to amend as to strike out a provision authorizing payment for goods taken by an officer without giving a receipt.

At half past three the Senate was an executive session, and the Senate soon after adjourned.

HOUSE.

On motion of Mr. Morrill, it was postponed until after the Tariff bill shall be disposed of.

Mr. Spaulding gave notice that he would call up the question of privilege in the Grinnell-Rosseau matter immediately on the conclusion of the Tariff bill.

The bill introduced some days since by Mr. Wilson, of Iowa, in relation to the Pacific Railroad act of July 1st, 1862, and July 2d, 1864, came up in order.

Mr. Blow offered an amendment, which was agreed to, providing that the bill should not interfere with any right conferred on the Central Pacific Railroad Company of California.

Mr. Loan offered an amendment, which was agreed to, requiring the Union Pacific road to cross the one hundredth meridian of west longitude between the north fork of the Platte River and the south bank of the Republican River, in Nebraska Territory.

Mr. Schenck, from the Committee on the Conference on the Army Appropriation Bill, made the following report: The House is recommended to recede from the amendment requiring suit to be brought against the Illinois Central Railroad for sums paid for the transportation of troops and munitions of war; agree to the Senate amendment making appropriation for the construction of fire proof store house at the arsenal at Philadelphia, and to agree to the amendment increasing and fixing the mileage of army officers ten instead of six cents. The Senate is recommended to recede from the amendment making appropriation for the purchase of land used as a fort near Nashville, Tennessee. The section in regard to Quartermaster's stores is to be amended by requiring supplies articles issued in the Pacific States and Territories to be delivered and inspected at the points designated, and the advertisements for such supplies to be published in the newspapers of San Francisco, California, and Portland, Oregon. The section in regard to the military academy is to be amended so as to provide that the Superintendent may hereafter be selected and the officers detailed from any arm of the service, and that the Superintendent in charge of the academy shall report to the War Department. The section in regard to the extra pay for soldiers employed in constructing public works is to be amended so as to allow enlisted men working as artificers and non-commissioned officers employed as overseers, thirty-two cents per day, and enlisted men employed as laborers twenty cents per day. The report was agreed to.

The House went into Committee of the Whole on the bad tariff bill, having previously ordered an evening session.

The amendment offered by Mr. Myers on Tuesday last, to make the duty on glass, bottles, vials, &c., three cents per pound, carboys, four cents per pound, was rejected.

Mr. Myers the offered a similar amendment, making the duty on glass vials, &c., three and a quarter cents per pound.

Mr. Moorhead moved to amend the paragraph about cut glass, by adding to the ad valorem 40 per cent. specific duty of two cents per pound. Rejected.

Mr. Dawes moved to amend the paragraph about window glass by increasing the duty from two to three and a quarter cents per pound, from two and a half to two and three quarter cents, from three and a half to four cents, and from four to four and a half cents. Adopted.

On motion of Mr. Kerr, of West Virginia, a new paragraph was added taxing fire-bricks thirty per cent. advalorem.

On motion of Mr. Keeney, a proviso was added to the paragraph taxing books as follows: "Provided, that if the same shall be imported in quantities of more than five copies in any invoice, they shall, if written wholly or partly in the English language, be liable to a duty of twenty cents per pound weight and twenty-five per cent advalorem. On stereotype plates of books and sheets of wood cuts, a duty of twenty cents per pound weight and twenty-five per cent. advalorem.

Mr. Patterson moved to amend it by striking out the whole paragraph about books and inserting in lieu of it on books wholly in a foreign language, agricultural and scientific reports, and periodicals not being American reprints, ten per cent. ad valorem. He argued that such books were only purchased by scholars and scientific men, who should not be wholly taxed for the benefit of fat book publishers in Boston and New York.

Mr. Kelly denied that book publishers in that country had been making fortunes from their business. He said that many of them were having books published in England and Belgium from American stereotype plates on account of the relative cheapness of labor and paper in those countries.

Mr. Rice opposed the amendment.

Without disposing of the amendment the Committee rose, having disposed of three pages of the bill.

Mr. Blow introduced a bill providing that where a licensed tax is imposed upon wholesale dealers, and calculated upon the previous years sales, shall prove to be in excess of the tax properly chargeable on the amount of sales actually made, the excess of the tax shall be refunded. It was read three times and referred to the Committee on Ways and Means.

On motion of Mr. Schenck, the Senate joint resolution to provide the publication of the official history of the rebellion, was taken from the Speaker's table, read a third time, and referred to the Committee on Military Affairs.

At half past four o'clock the House took a recess till 7.30 p. m.

The United States to Participate in the Paris Exposition—Interesting from Mexico—Land Office Business.

WASHINGTON CITY, July 5.—Congress has at length passed the appropriation act, providing for the participation of the United States in the Paris Universal Exposition of 1867.

In addition to the many applications already filed, it is presumed there are still others which have been awaiting the result of the legislation on the subject, and that the leading minds of the several States will now review the report of applications made public in April last, so that no important interest or new invention shall be omitted. Resolutions were adopted requesting Governor Fletcher to retire the troops which the late Legislature authorized to come into service to preserve peace, on the ground that it is unconstitutional to keep troops in peace without the consent of Congress, except when the State is actually invaded, or in imminent danger thereof; and endorsing President Johnson's action in relation to the Freedmen's Bureau, the Civil Rights bill, and all other measures adopted by him in restoration of the South to the Union; condemning the efforts of Congress to amend the Constitution while one-third of the States are unrepresented; protesting against the attempt to have the amendment ratified by a Legislature elected one or two years ago, and heartily approving the course in Congress of Representatives Hogan and Noell. The Convention elected four persons from each Congressional District, and nine for the State at large, as delegates to the Philadelphia Convention, among them Congressmen Hogan and Noell.

Singular Freaks of Lightning.

During the heavy hail and rain storm of Tuesday last, a correspondent of the Ebensburg Alleghenian, residing from Johnstown, the lightning played a singular freak at the house of Mr. Bailey, of Prospect borough. It entered the roof of the dwelling at the comb, about a foot from the end of the roof, and running down along the planking, shivered the weather boarding to splinters, tearing off in its course a clothes rack which was fastened to the wall of the bed room. About the middle of the house it jumped from the plank, ran along a tin spout, down to the ground, then to a tub sitting on a barrel, and, after cutting one hoop from the tub, it turned and went directly through the ground a hole which might readily be mistaken for a bullet hole. From this point, in some most unaccountable manner, it jumped to the barrel immediately under the tub, and ran down apparently between two staves till it reached the water, several feet below the barrel, and there it turned directly through a heavy oak stave, leaving a similar hole made through the tub. We were unable to trace its course farther, but feel satisfied that the tin conductor was the means of drawing the lightning from the house, erst no telling what damages it might have done. We regard the whole matter as a most singular freak of the fluid.

A Cowardly Act.

An employee of Dan Rice's Circus, now on exhibition in Allegheny, threw a stone at a small boy, yesterday, who was endeavoring to get under the canvas. The missile struck the lad on the right side of the head, a few inches above the right ear, inflicting an ugly gash of some three inches in extent. Instead of going to the assistance of the lad, who had fallen, the cowardly miscreant walked coolly into the show, with the air of a victorious knight at an ancient tournament. The boy was picked up and taken to his home in the Second Ward, where medical aid was obtained and his wound dressed. We hope Mr. Rice, who by the way is a man of honor, will investigate this matter and discharge the over zealous attache.

Cressons.—The attendance of summer visitors at Cresson has been extremely small thus far. At least so says the reliable Ebensburg Alleghenian. There is but little attraction about this intended to be fashionable resort, and as the expenses attendant upon a sojourn at Cape May, Newport or Saratoga are out a trifle heavier, the people prefer to place of life and enjoyment give Cresson the cold shoulder.

The Fourth of July and How it Passed Away.

The Ninetieth Anniversary of our National Holiday was observed in a quiet, orderly manner by our citizens. The morning was by no means pleasant, heavy showers of rain falling at intervals, but the remaining portion of the day was all that could be desired. After dinner the streets were thronged, and presented an appearance of unusual gaiety. The Theatre, Academy of Music, Opera House and Trimble's had crowded houses at their afternoon matinees, while the two circuses and attendant side shows drove an equally prosperous business. The Regatta so much talked about was a grand failure, reflecting but little credit upon the parties concerned in thus humbugging the people upon a day their time was so precious. We do not know with whom rests the responsibility, but if such a farce be repeated, the sanction will sink from the dignity given it by the Hamills and Jacksons. The Duquesne Pic Nic at Glenwood Grove was a decided success, thousands participating. The Duquesne Greys know how to manage such affairs, and upon this occasion surpassed all of their previous efforts. The vigilant picnic at McKee's Rocks was also very well attended and passed off in a quiet and orderly manner. The "F. L. T's," association about which we know nothing, held a picnic at the city at the beautiful grounds known as McFarland's Grove. It was managed in a highly creditable manner, and was attended by many of our best people. Some two hundred couple tripped the light fantastic toe to the excellent music of Julius Moore's band. The supper was one of Mr. Anderson's efforts, and not only reflected highly upon his epicurean abilities, but likewise upon the generosity of the managers. The dance was kept up till midnight, the ground having been beautifully adorned with Chinese lanterns and brilliant reflectors. Everybody was pleased with the "F. L. T's" pic-nic, as it was so admirably managed and arranged. There were a number of other pic-nics about the city, on the various railroad lines, all of which passed off in a quiet and orderly manner.

But little drunkenness prevailed during the day, and considering that it was the Fourth of July, when everybody is privileged to do as he pleases, the number of arrests upon the streets was unusually small. Several insignificant parcels happened in Allegheny and Pittsburg, but further than that we could learn of no disturbance. In the evening the places of amusement were crowded to e cess and the streets were thronged with people. At the United States Arsenal the usual display of fire works was made, which attracted many spectators. In the city the display was equally grand, Fifth avenue, in particular, appeared to take the lead, and kept the corner of Fifth and Smithfield streets in a blaze of light from early dark to midnight. Other private citizens manifested equally creditable displays of patriotism done up in rockets and Roman candles. All in all the day was highly creditable to the patriotic character of our people.

A Letter from Jimmy Hamill.

On Wednesday last the great race for the aquatic championship of the world, between Kelly, of England, and Hamill, of America, must have taken place. It will be several days before we can announce the result, but in the meanwhile let us hope that "Jimmy" has taken in and done for the English lion. But little money is staked upon the result here, as Hamill is so immensely popular that a wager against him can hardly be obtained. If the "glass house boy," from Pittsburgh, has won the race, he will be the proudest man in the world, and he well deserves to be. If by any possibility he has lost the race he will stay in "merrie old England" until he has defeated the champion.

We clip the following letter from the Hamills and James Laughlin to the editor of the Wheeling Chipper:

FRANK QUERES—Dear Sir—We write for the purpose of posting you upon our prospects in the forthcoming races. Jim is in excellent health and spirits, and at the present time pulls down the scale at 162 pounds, leaving a reduction of but eight or nine pounds to come off. He will row at 152 pounds or 154 pounds. This style of racing is familiar to that of Josh Ward, with the single exception that they row cross-handed, and unless that style is infinitely superior Jim's, we have every reason to believe that the championship of the world will be carried to the shores of our native land. We have made a great many friends here, and the sporting people, especially, are anxious for our success. The gentleman at whose house we are stopping, Mr. Jno. Brown, Bienheim House, does all that lies in his power to make us render as comfortable, as also does the veteran Dan Casper, Esq. B. will not allow any one to prepare our victuals for us except his wife. He is attending to getting us in the best of trim. With the border of red, white and blue, and nine stars in each of the four corners. The centre is ornamented with an eagle representing the Union, with the word "Pennsylvania" under the centre, and the inscription, "James Hamill, Champion of America," underneath. We have been endeavoring to induce some of the leading sporting men of this place to back Jim in order that they may become pecuniarily interested in our winning, and thereby render our chances of having fair play to maintain—a fact, however, which we have no occasion to doubt, so on Saturday last we got Mr. James Nelson, one of Bob Chambers' staunchest backers, to come and time Jim from High Level Bridge to Lawrenceville, and he was somewhat astonished at the result and concluded that Jim's chances were at least "fair to middling." The people here say they never saw a man do so much work in so little time. They have prepared a huge bill, and whoever may attend will get in return the full value of their money in comedy or tragedy.

At the Opera House, the Misses Mouk, the charming and most pleasing actresses of the Pittsburgh Theatre, will take a benefit on Tuesday night next. A large number of the most talented actors and actresses of the city have volunteered their services upon the occasion, and a rare entertainment may be anticipated. From their motets, lady like conduct upon the stage, the Misses Mouk have gathered about them a large number of friends, who will doubtless show their appreciation of them by aiding with their presence at the benefit.

A Novel Amusement.

Fired with patriotism, and "old rye," a pugilistic cell named Michael McGee, assaulted John McCoy, on Tunnel street, on the "Fourth," knocking him down and otherwise abusing him. Being brought before Alderman Lynch to answer for his conduct, he stated that he made the attack upon the unoffending John, for no other reason than to create a little innocent amusement, by way of celebrating Independence Day in a becoming manner. McCoy did not appear to Michael [illegible] and the latter was [illegible] strongly to the [illegible] Court, and therefore requested his accusation to be held to bail for court, which was accordingly done.

A Queer Case of Highway Robbery.

Among the many strangers who paid our city a visit on Wednesday for the purpose of spending the "Fourth" was a lady from Oil City giving her name as Rosa Kane, alias Weller Rosa, arrived on the morning train, and in search of the "elephant" she wandered over to Allegheny City—a community that for certain reasons has obtained an enviable reputation for morality—where she met an acquaintance named William Fence, who, finding his coffers empty, asked the verdant Rosa for valorem of the specific duty of two cents per pound. Rejected.

Mr. Dawes moved to amend the paragraph about window glass by increasing the duty from two to three and a quarter cents per pound

THE EUROPEAN WAR.

Our communications in the telegraphic columns have been so complete, that to reiterate them here would be superfluous. Let us then only for a moment consider them, their bearing upon each other, and their consequences. On the 14th of June, 1866, a scene was transacted in the German Diet at Frankfort, which was not at all in keeping with the slow, phlegmatic action of that sleepy body. In spite of the warning of the Prussian Minister, the majority of the Assembly adopted the Austrian proposal to mobilize the Federal army, with the exception of the Prussian contingent, and place it at the disposal of the Austrians. Austria, Bavaria, Saxony, Hanover, Wirtenberg, Hesse-Cassel, Hesse-Darmstadt, Nassau, and the 16th Curia voted for this measure; Prussia, Luxemburg, the 12th, 14th, 15th and 17th Curia voted against it. The majority represented 13,900,000 people and an army of 173,000 men, the minority 2,955,000 people and an army of 33,500 men.

When the smaller states staked their very existence on this vote, they did it with Austria's assurance of assistance, and the certain hope thereof; but if they could have foreseen the quick resolution and rapid movements of the Prussian on the one hand, the tardiness of the Austrians on the other, they might have hesitated and considered the matter a little longer. Prussia's warnings were no idle threats. With a rapidity that excites the admiration of everybody, though not the astonishment of those acquainted with her military organism, she fell on her enemies. And time was precious indeed. Had she waited, until those States hostile to her had mobilized their armies, hundreds of thousands would have been added to her enemies. We may well believe BISMARK's assertion, that the law of self-preservation caused the invasion and occupation of the neighboring States. Hanover and Hesse Castle were entered on the 15th, that is, one day after the fatal vote in Frankfort, and before long, these entire States, excepting perhaps the Southern part of Hanover, were in the possession of the Prussians. Thus a few adversaries were laid prostrate, and the others intimidated. They cry for help, but help is coming very slowly. Austria promised assistance, but it is doubtful, whether she can spare troops to send to Frankfort, and if she can, Prussia will do everything in her power, to decide the question before the Austrian succor arrives.

Saxony was invaded on the same day, and, as it seems, on three different sides. We don't know how strong the Prussian army was in this instance, but if we consider the great extent of their line of operations and the many points of attack, we should think that it was not large enough to make a resistance on the side of the Saxons entirely useless and impossible. The latter number 30,000 men, and such a corps acting in defense, ought to be able to retard, if not to check, the progress of an invading army three times its number. But they seem to have done nothing of the kind. The Prussians entered on three sides at once; they came from the north, along the Ell, having Torgan for a base; west from Halle and Erfurt, and east from Gorlitz, moving on Bautzen and Zittau. Perhaps this complexity of movements bewildered the Saxons, who were once before entrapped and caught by Frederic the Great under similar circumstances; perhaps they, like the south-western States, looked in vain for timely help from Austria. However this may be, they retreated and allowed the Prussians to take and fortify themselves in Dresden. The importance of this gain cannot be over-estimated. They thereby conquered a base from which they threaten Bohemia, without exposing their own country to the direct ravages of the war. If it is furthermore true that they accomplished an advance into Austrian Silesia, the theatre of war would thereby become changed and a mountainous country substituted for the great plains of Saxony. We can scarcely suppose that Austria would thus seemingly forego great advantages, but if our calculations should prove correct we cannot interpret her hesitancy in any other light but that of weakness. Bohemia's mountains are calculated for defense, the plains of Saxony for attack.

In Italy war also has been declared and the Austrian commander has received three days' notice, (we had almost said grace,) but beyond the fact, that great enthusiasm prevails nothing has yet occurred to foreshadow the movements and intentions of the belligerents.

France still adheres to armed neutrality and so does Russia, but it is hard to say how long this may last, especially with France, whose Emperor but illy conceals his appetite for surrounding provinces. It is touching with what simplicity and innocence he exclaims: "My appetite is excellent, but I shall constrain it as long as the others abstain from eating; but should they go to work and pick choice morsels, I am not going to stand by idle."

In the course of the debate in the House of Representatives on the Tariff bill, Mr. MOORHEAD explained that he had contended for the full rate of $1.25 per ton on bituminous coal, and that the rate finally embodied in the bill was a compromise. He farther stated that he had admitted in Committee, and was not unwilling his constituents should know, he thought "it was unnatural that we should prevent the New England manufacturers from using and procuring coal from their own mines in the Provinces, and force them to get it from the Maryland, Pennsylvania and Virginia coal districts, a distance of a thousand miles or more of railroad transportation."

The Nashville Press states that the prospect for getting a quorum of the Tennessee Legislature together, to act on the Constitutional Amendment, is improving.

The Democrats of Northumberland have nominated J. WOODS BROWNE for Congress, and Gen. W. THARP for Assembly.

PRESIDENT JOHNSON—COL. FORNEY.

President JOHNSON has done an act which no gentleman will excuse, much less justify—he has published a private letter, addressed to him by Col. FORNEY, when they were on terms of personal and political friendship. By the laws of the land, not less than by the usages of respectable society, this letter was the property of Col. FORNEY, and the person to whom it was addressed had no more moral or legal right to use it contrary to the intentions of the writer, than he had to appropriate any other piece of property, not belonging to himself, to his own purposes. These violations of confidence strike at the very existence of confidential intercourse, and so become exceedingly prejudicial to the well-being of society. Friendships are liable to be ruptured in this world; but once establish the rule that when friends become alienated they may, without incurring an odious taint, reveal what passed during the period of intimacy, and friendship will become impossible.

It is doubtless true President JOHNSON has been subjected to provocation in this matter. Colonel FORNEY has, in repeated instances, exceeded the limits of fair discussion in dealing with the President and his Policy. He has indulged in an unnecessary vigor of denunciation, which, as we happen to know, not a few of his ardent admirers among the radicals in Congress and out, have strongly deprecated. This error has grown out of the enthusiasm of his nature. He cannot act with moderation. Whatever he attempts, he does with his whole soul; and this trait of his character is just as manifest in the letter published by the President, as in his replication to that breach of common decency.

This letter bears date the 2d of last January. In it, the Colonel heartily endorses the President's Policy; projects means for sustaining him therein; and even declares for his re-election to the Presidency. In the light which has since been shed on the presidential programme, this puts the Colonel in an awkward attitude. In abatement he pleads he did not, at that early period, comprehend fully what the President really intended; that he had reason to suppose he was inflexible in his demands of guarantees for the future, and, among them, negro suffrage; and that he did not contemplate treachery to the republican party. This plea is a substantial one. It was about that time the GAZETTE threw out its first intimations of distrust in the fidelity of the President to his own professions, and to the principles of the party by which he was elevated to the headship of the nation. There were not a half dozen Republicans in Allegheny county but thought us too fast. Where so many failed to get their eyes open, it is not singular the Colonel partook of the common infirmity. His want of penetration may militate against the pretension set up in his behalf, of eminent prescience and statesmanship, but his mistake, such it was, was on the side of charity; and the President and his friends, of all others, had then, and have now, least occasion to be dissatisfied with it. They were not provoked at the Colonel's want of clear-sightedness then, but only because, having corrected his vision, he refused to follow the President in his great betrayal.

The end proposed by the publication of the letter is plain enough; it is to mar the Colonel's chances of an election to the Senatorship. Whatever those chances were, we cannot see they are likely to be made less or more by this development.

The President's fault in publishing a private letter—and this is not the first instance in which he has offended in that way—stung the Colonel to such a pitch that he threatens reprisals by detailing to the public the lamentable incidents that went before and followed after the inauguration. However natural this impulse of revenge, we trust it will not be put in execution. What is already known is enough to make every good citizen desire that whatever else remains behind may be covered with the mantle of perpetual oblivion.

Last May the headless trunk of a man was found in a forest in Poweshiek County, Iowa, and subsequently the head was discovered under a mass of leaves. All efforts to secure the arrest of the murderer, or even obtain an identification of the murdered man proved futile. Dr. Conway, of Brooklyn, took charge of the head of the murdered man, and carefully preserving it in spirits, kept it in readiness for future developments. At length a chain of circumstantial evidence seemed to point to a young man named Lirk Vincent as the murderer, and last Friday week he was arrested at his home, near Cambridge, Illinois, and on that and the next day underwent a legal examination. Dr. Conway was in attendance, and in the crowded court room opened a tin pail, the top of which was covered with black oil-cloth closely tied down, and to the astonishment and horror of the beholders, exhibited a human head, the perfect features of which were at once and positively identified, by hundreds of persons, as the countenance of Clailborn Showers, a former comrade and fellow-traveler of the accused, who had mysteriously disappeared about the time of the murder. Vincent was held to bail to await a requisition on Governor Oglesby from Governor Stone.

Nelson Bristol, a wealthy farmer of Florence, Huron county, O., was robbed of over $14,000 on Tuesday, the 26th of June, in a very singular manner. In Mr. Bristol's safe were $8000 in United States bonds, belonging to himself; $2000 entrusted to his safe keeping by a neighbor, a Mr. Pearce, and $2027 in gold, the property of Mr. Bristol. About dark, five men arrived at the house, claiming to be government detectives, who were on the track of some government bonds, which had been stolen. Hearing that Bristol had a large amount of securities they demanded to see them. He reluctantly opened his safe, when his visitors declared that the numbers of his bonds compared exactly with those of the missing ones, and in spite of his protestations, kept possession of them. They then arrested him and his wife and three hired men, for their alleged suspicious conduct, handcuffed them, and "confiscated" the gold, as the proceeds of missing bonds, which had been sold. They then withdrew, ostensibly for consultation, but, it is hardly necessary to say, did not return. The handcuffed victims waited several hours; and finally arrived at the conclusion that they had been frightfully taken in. At last accounts the robbers had not been captured.

A College for Colored People.—Articles of corporation were duly filed in the office of the Clerk of Cole county, in this State, last Wednesday. The corporators, or Board of Trustees, are Governor Fletcher, Treasurer Bishop, Register Smith, Attorney General Wingate, Superintendent Parker, Public Printer Foster, the Rev. J. A. Whittaker, James E. Yeatman, Arnold Krekel, R. B. Foster and Henry Brown. Brown is the only colored man in the list. The college is to be called the "Lincoln Institute."—St. Louis Dispatch.

On Saturday last, the Hon. C. V. Culver took up his lodgings in the Venango county jail—that seeming to be the only way in which he could escape the relentless persecution waged against him by three or four of his creditors, who appear to think that the sure way to establish their own reputations is to pursue with fiendish malignity an unfortunate man who is at present under a cloud financially. Mrs. Culver, with the devotion of a true woman, accompanied her husband, and shares his cell with him.—Meadville Republican.

A past young man at New Haven stole money from his employers, variously estimated at from $10,000 to $20,000, to pay gambling losses, and absconded to New York. He was arrested, and while on his way to New Haven in charge of an officer, he jumped off at one of the stations, and has not been seen since.

General Geary fought the rebels in the front; Hiester Clymer fought the Union soldiers in the rear. That's the difference between the two.—Lancaster Express.

—The amount of property bequeathed by the late Moody Kent to the New Hampshire Asylum for the Insane, is estimated at $135,000.

—A waggish fellow advertises in the Selma, (Ala.) Times that he will sell his plantation and his interest in a good lot of negro hands.

—It is a fact not to be denied, that famine, gaunt and haggard, is standing on the door-sills of hundreds of homes in Northern Alabama.

Mrs. Geraghy, aged eighty-one years, residing in New York city, cut four new teeth the other day. She is certainly in second childhood.

—The last census taken at St. Petersburg shows that the population amounts to 539,122, of whom 313,443 are men, and 225,679 women.

—The public water fountains are said to prove an injury to the London beer shops. So we should think. Beer and water must be a miserable compound.

—Anthony Frazier, aged ninety years, committed suicide in Philadelphia one day last week by drowning himself. He was old enough to know better.

—It is supposed that the cattle disease is among the buffaloes on the plains. A great many have been found dead, without an outward appearance of any cause.

—Illinois is bigger than New England and New Jersey, Delaware and Maryland besides—the latter States having altogether an area of 54,836 square miles, while Illinois has 55,405.

—Philadelphia is dissatisfied because none of her citizens have represented the State in the United States Senate for thirty-five years, and none have filled the Governor's chair for sixty years.

—The Augusta papers are laughing over a suit brought by a colored girl against a negro swain, for breach of promise of marriage. Such a prosecution has never before been known in a Georgia court.

—The American Wood Screw Company, of Providence, Rhode Island, has a capital of $1,000,000, and from the net profits of its business, divided among its stockholders $1,000,000 in 1864, and $1,200,000 in 1865.

—General Sherman seems to have a very poor opinion of Canada, for on a recent visit to Sandusky, Ohio, the question of Canadian annexation being discussed, he said, "We don't want Canada, but if we should, a campaign of five days would bring it."

—Two ladies—employees in one of the largest business houses in New Haven—indulged themselves in a two mile boat race in the harbor of that city on Thursday last. The Palladium says that "both pulled finely, showing that they possessed considerable muscle and strength."

—All reports from our newly discovered Illinois gold regions of Crooked Creek, in Schuyler county, twelve miles from Augusta, agree that the precious metal has been found in considerable quantities—sufficient at least to encourage the search for it. A company is already at work, having pitched their tents and built a dam across the stream, preparatory to entering fully into the mining business.

—It is stated that, on the recent up trip of the Mississippi steamer Golden Eagle, the mate found a large fuse shell in the coal, which, had it been undiscovered and thrown into the fire, would have resulted disastrously. Some steamboatmen are of the opinion that a great many of the late disasters have been caused by placing shells in the coal. The St. Louis papers believe there is some reason for this view, from the fact that the Atlantic and Mississippi Steamship line have been sufferers so much of late from explosions and fire.

—The eleventh census of France is now being taken, and the results are looked for with great interest. France grows very slowly, and in the ratio of increase of population is behind every other European country. Her population was 27,000,000, in 1801, and in 60 years, to 1861, had increased but 9,000,000. During the same period the population of Great Britain more than doubled. A greater rate of increase is looked for from the present census, however, because France, since 1861, has been in a very prosperous condition and not engaged in war.

—A startling fishing adventure is told by a Southern exchange, to the effect that Mr. George B. McKinstry, until recently a citizen of Galveston, was drowned on the night of the 6th ult., at the head of Galveston Bay, by being struck and knocked overboard by a large fish, which leaped from the water into the boat. The fish again leaped out, leaving some scales, which showed it to be one of the kind known as Grandecoys. There were two boats nearly together, and those on board are under the impression that they were purposely attacked by the fish, and that Mr. M. was pulled under by it after having been knocked out of the boat. The body was recovered three days afterward.

When there are more than three representatives of a color guard present they will take post as prescribed in the United States Army Regulations. Regiments and detachments of over nine hundred men to be preceded with the band.

Officers have been selected to command respectively the cavalry, artillery, infantry and militia, and will be announced in order by the commanding officer.

6. The procession will move at 10 o'clock A. M., precisely, over the following

ROUTE:

Down Arch street to Twelfth street, down Twelfth street to Chestnut street, down Chestnut street to Second street, down Second street to Walnut street, and up Walnut-street to Independence Square.

7. On the arrival of the head of the column at this point, a Governor's salute of fifteen guns will be fired in Washington Square by detachments from the 1st, 2d and 3d regiments of Artillery, under command of Lieutenant Colonel James Bradley.

8. On entering the square, the General commanding, the officers not on duty with troops, Major General Meade and staff, and the soldier orphans, preceded by a band, will take the advance, and as soon as they are in position on the stand, will be followed by the color bearers and guards, including those of regiments and detachments. Another Cæsar Slain.

John Gribben lives on Tunnel street, in the Third ward, and is the lawful possessor of a huge mastiff named Cæsar, which on Wednesday, fell a victim to the patriotic outburst incidental to the Fourth of July. A boy named Henry Kramer gained possession of a pistol, with which he amused himself the entire day by firing at every inanimate object that came within range of his weapon. Considering this sport rather dull, he determined towards evening to try the effects of a shot on some specimen of animal creation, and, accordingly sought out the canine herein before mentioned, whom he found slumbering in the rear of his master's dwelling, and fired two shots at him, both balls taking effect in the head of the unfortunate Cæsar, who fell like his illustrious namesake, yielding up the ghost amid the most fearful struggles for existence. Hearing the shots Gribben repaired to the scene just in time to see the glazing eyes of Cæsar close in death. After committing the cruel act, Kramer—the another Thane of Glamis—fled conscience-striken from the spot, but retribution followed quick upon his heels, and in less than half an hour he was before Alderman Lynch, and had in the sum of three hundred dollars to answer at Court for the wounding and killing of the defunct Cæsar, which, in legal phraseology, was simply termed malicious mischief.

Counterfeit Greenbacks.—It is well known to the United States detectives that certain parties have been engaged for some time past in manufacturing counterfeit 410 notes on at least one National Bank, and that systematic efforts to put them in circulation will soon, doubtless, be made by the leader of the gang. Some of these notes have already made their appearance in Philadelphia and New York, and are reported to be of a most dangerous description, so faithfully have the details of the counterfeiting process followed the genuine bills. The public is cautioned against receiving any National Bank "lens" without the most careful scrutiny.

Mr. Gregory Wilson, Artist of Cincinnati, a native of this city, is engaged in preparing an elaborate design for a monument to be erected by Professor A. T. Keckeler over the remains of Dr. Powell. It promises to be an elaborate affair, surmounted with a bust of the deceased, over medallions, on which are inscribed the various sciences taught by Dr. Powell. The bust surmounting the column is appropriate, seeing that Professor Keckeler replaces the head he is so much blamed for appropriating.

Mastodon's Teeth.—We were yesterday shown a fossilized tooth, fifteen inches in circumference, five inches long across the face and four inches broad, weighing two and three quarters pounds. It was found in Moon township, Ohio, in what is known as the Blue Rock oil region. It was lying in a creek when found, having doubtless been washed out of a gravel drift by the current.

EARLY TELEGRAMS.

GREAT FIRE AT PORTLAND, ME.

Immense Loss of Property.

MOST OF THE BUSINESS HOUSES BURNED.

The Fire Still Raging.

PORTLAND, ME., June 4, 7 P. M.—A terrible fire is raging here, having destroyed Brown's sugar house, and is sweeping through the city before a strong southerly wind.

SECOND DISPATCH.

8 P. M.—The fire caught in the building above the sugar house on Commercial street, and has swept northerly through that street into the wooden buildings between Centre, and Cross streets, consuming everything as it goes. J. B. Brown & Sons lost from $300,00 to $400,000; insured for $200,000. Stapler & Son's machine shop and N. P. Richardson & Co.'s stove foundry are completely destroyed. One steam fire engine has just come from Saco.

LATER.

PORTLAND, Me., June 5.—The fire has completely swept through the city, destroying everything in its track so completely that the lines of the streets can hardly be traced for a space of one-and-a-half mile long by a quarter of a mile wide. Many buildings, perhaps one hundred and fifty, were blown up to check the flames, but the inhabitants could scarcely do more than flee with their families to the upper part of the city, taking such goods as they could carry. The custom house, being fire-proof, escaped, though greatly damaged. The court records, in the upper story, are probably destroyed. The splendid city and county building on Congress street, which was nearly fire-proof, was considered safe, and it was filled full of furniture by the neighboring residents, and then it was swept away with all its contents. Half the city is destroyed, and that half includes nearly all the business portion, except the heavy business houses in Commerce street. All the banks and newspaper offices are burned. But three printing offices are left. All the jewelry establishments, wholesale dry goods stores, several churches, the telegraph offices, nearly all the stationery stores and a number of business places are destroyed. The fire is still raging below Cumberland street, working back to the westward, the wind having changed. Captain Henry Juman has telegraphed for fifteen hundred tents to accommodate the houseless families.

A Johnson State Convention.

PHILADELPHIA, July 5.—A Johnson State Convention was held to-day in Sansom street Hall, Philadelphia. The North American says that when it was organized not twenty persons were present. Mr. Martin, of Delaware county, was temporarily called to the chair, which he took with evident reluctance. G. K. Flantgen, of Philadelphia, Mr. Mcdowell, of Philadelphia, and, Mr. Williamson, of Delaware, were appointed a Committee on Permanent Organization, who reported, for President—Hon. H. W. Tracy, of Bradford county.

Vice Presidents—Mr. Foster, of Centre; Mr. Hetrick, of Northampton; Archibald Robinson, of Beaver; Henry Simons, of Philadelphia; Wm. W. Allison, of Juniata; P. R. Johnson, of Luzerne; Thos. C. McDowell, of Dauphin; Jno. Lowry, of Allegheny; D. R. Harker, of Bucks; D. E. Davidson, of Fayette, and F. Swan, of Erie; S Snyder Leidy, of Philadelphia; N. P. Sawyer, of Pittsburgh; Theodore Beach, of Mercer; Col. Tally, of Chester; P. M. Hackenburg, of Snyder; B. R. Bradford, of Beaver, and C. Callum, of Crawford.

Mr. McDowell moved for the appointment of a committee of one from each district, which Mr. Johnson should be chairman, to draft a series of resolutions for the consideration of the convention. This was agreed to, and the Chair selected for that purpose: Ex-Governor Johnson; D. Rush Bradford, Beaver county; Jos. R. Flanigen, Philadelphia; R. C. Morton, Delaware; C. McDowell, Dauphin; C. P. Corraman, Philadelphia; Samuel Mckelvey, Allegheny; D. R. Davidson, Fayette; Joseph G. Cummings, Delaware; F. R. Harrington, Chester; J. W. Cowell, Bucks; A. F. Swann, Erie; J. K. Adamson, Mercer; G. W. Straus, Juniata.

As delegates to the National Convention on August 14th, Hon. H. W. Tracy, of Bradford; Edgar Cowan, of Westmoreland; William F. Johnston, of Allegheny; and Colonel Joseph R. Flanigen, of Philadelphia, were named.

B. R. Bradford, of Beaver, Wm. H. Blair, of Centre, and N. P. Sawyer, of Allegheny, were named as alternates.

Gov. Johnson, Mr. Martin and Mr. Tracey also addressed the meeting by a band, will take the advance, and as soon as they are in position on the stand, will be followed by the color bearers and guards, including those of regiments and detachments. The remaining bodies will then enter the square.

Cause of Jim Lane's Suicide.

WASHINGTON, MONDAY, July 2.—Jim Lane died of Andy Johnson. He went from here to Kansas, impressed with the delusion that his services as one of the President's men due to the people of that State, that he could carry it for Johnson's policy by five thousand majority. His first appearance upon the stages of Lawrence shocked him with a sense of his terrible error. In the town where he had once walked a monarch, no man spoke to him. Old companions shook him with a cold recognition on the sidewalk. On horseback, in the principal street, he rode unrecognized and rejected. He went to his house and sent for many of his old friends to come and see him. They returned answer that they wished to have no intercourse with him. Two days after his arrival in Lawrence the dark came from Washington. What a contrast and what a lesson! A vast crowd met and welcomed him with music and flags. A public meeting applauded his votes, honored him for his fidelity and pledged to him the love and the support of Kansas. Humiliated, smitten with remorse, and utterly desperate, Lane terminated at once his life and his career in Johnson politics.

From Mexico.

NEW YORK, July 5.—Vera Cruz dates of the 23d of June state that the vomito or fever was raging there, and deaths were numerous.

It was believed that Santa Anna was acting in the interests of the Church party, in consideration of which he expected to be elevated to the Presidency, he promising to restore the Church party their property.

Maximilian continues reorganizing and concentrating his army.

The French troops which evacuated Matamoras had reached Vera Cruz. A Liberal movement on San Louis Potosi had compelled a reinforcement of that place by the Imperialists.

Murder of Hon. Barnwell Rhett—He is shot by a Negro.

COLUMBIA, SOUTH CAROLINA, July 4.—Hon. Barnwell Rhett, a distinguished citizen of this State, was shot yesterday, while going to his plantation, across the Charleston. He received two charges from a double-barrelled shot gun. About twenty minutes after receiving the wounds he fell from his horse and died. It is not know n definitely who the murderer was, but it is supposed to have been a negro, who had expressed strong hatred against the family.

NEW YORK, July 5.—At the Tammany Hall celebration yesterday letters were read from the President, Secretary Welles and others. The President's letter says: "There can be no nobler work than the obliteration of the passions and prejudices which retard conciliation and prevent the restoration of all the States to their constitutional relations with the Federal Government.

Outrageous Assault—Child Killed.

NEW YORK, July 5.—In Brooklyn, yesterday, a man named W. Volz, a painter, deliberately fired a loaded musket into a group of children, killing one and wounding two. The name of the child killed was William Leuman, aged six years; the children wounded were William Mattern and Charles Bagort. Volz was arrested.

FINANCE AND TRADE.

THURSDAY, July 5, 1866.

The New York stock quotations to-day were as follows: Gold, 15½; 1881's, 107¼; Five Twenties, 103¾@104; Ten Forties, 97¼; Seven Thirties, 103⅝@103¾; Cleveland & Pittsburgh R.R., 83¾; Pittsburgh, Fort Wayne & Chicago R. R., 96¾; Erie, 62½.

Government securities continue very firm, with a good demand for investment, and nearly all classes of people who have any spare funds are putting them into these bonds. The Five Twenties are just now in greatest favor, but all classes are firm. The later foreign news, to the 23d, shows a more active cotton market, and an advance of ¼ to ¾d per pound in price. The Five Twenties were quoted 65¼@66—an advance of 1 on the quotation by the reports of the 18th. This more favorable commercial news, and the continued abundance of money, gives general buoyancy to the stock market. Private advices by the last news report great monetary depression all over Germany, and the forced loan imposed by Austria upon Venetia was regarded as the forerunner of a succession of similar confiscation elsewhere. The finances of Austria are in a bad state, and she can only carry on war by levying largely upon private property. The finances of the kingdom of Italy are also in an almost hopeless state. This may turn foreign capital in our loans, as further removed from danger.

—It is stated that Mr. McCulloch, who is preparing an official statement of the national debt for the fiscal year ending last Saturday, says the reduction of public debt since June 30, 1865, will reach $100,000,000. The exact figures will appear shortly.

—A feature of the European news interesting to Americans is the fact that our credit abroad was fully sustained, notwithstanding the high price of gold on this side was known there, and the commencement of hostilities in Germany. The advices there have failed to have any marked effect in financial circles. A leading Liverpool authority writes:

"The continued decline in cotton occasions rather a painful feeling. The report from Manchester exhibits increased dullness, and has tended to augment the gloom here, but it would be remarkable indeed if, with the distracting news from the continent, the dubious aspect of home politics, and the existing high rate of discount, a market stocked, as the cotton market is, were not a little depressed. Business generally appears to be influenced anew, by the monetary tension and complexion of foreign politics, and the stock exchange markets exhibit an almost uniform depression."

The latest advices from Liverpool report a dull market for petroleum, a nominal business only being transacted at 1s 11d@1s 8d for refined Pennsylvania. At London the operations were also of a retail character, at about 2s 2d@2s 2½ for refined.

—Within the last week or two the general impression seems to prevail that the price of Flour will soon depreciate, and that, too, under the influence of the cheering news of a large wheat crop. Messrs. W. Wallace & Co. of St. Louis, in their circular of June 30th, refer to the flour market of that city as follows:

The receipts of flour have been considerably larger this week than during the preceding one, and the demand for medium and low grades was considerably below the supply, which produced a heavy and declining market for these grades; but under the influence of a limited supply the higher grades were firmly held and prices about maintained. The business of the week has been on a very moderate scale, and the tendency is still in favor of buyers, and will continue to be, until the condition of the new crop is positively known.

—The New York Tribune says:

The Sub-Treasury balance on saturday was reduced $21,888,482, putting at the command of borrowers this additional amount of money, for which there is no employment, except such as they are offering at the Stock Board at extremely low rates. The statement of the public debt for July 1 is reported as very favorable and indicates the ability of the Treasury to commence the payment of the temporary loans at an early day. When this is begun, if it is not attended by a loan to absorb the currency thus added to the active capital of the commercial centers, an upward movement may reasonably be expected in gold, stocks and commodities. It is estimated that Congress will the present week take up the funding scheme and give the Secretary ample powers. He will not be master of the situation until he is authorized to refire legal tenders at his discretion. Still it is encouraging, feeling that a 5 per cent loan can be negotiated but an attempt in that direction will soon convince 5 per cent people of their error; the necessary investment to 5 per cent. money will remain cheap and abundant enough to stimulate rampant speculation.

New York Money and Stock Market.

NEW YORK, July 5.—The Money market is steady, at 4@5 per cent. Sterling quiet, at 108¾@109. Gold is firmer—opening at 152¾, declining to 152⅝, and closing at 153⅝. Government Stocks more active and firmer. Freights to Liverpool 1-16c better. Stocks stronger; Chicago and Alton, 101; Delaware, Lackawanna and Western, 142; Alton and Terre Haute, 31; Pittsburgh, Fort Wayne and Chicago, 97½; Chicago and Rock Island, 95½; Cleveland and Toledo, 107¾; Chicago and North Western, 31½; do preferred, 66½; Cleveland and Pittsburgh, 83½; Illinois Central, 121½; Michigan Central, 105; Michigan Southern, 80½; Reading, 104¾; Erie, 68½; New York Central, 99⅝. Five-Twenty Coupons of 1862, 104½; do of 1864, 104¼; Ten-Forty Coupons, 97½; Seven-Thirties, 3d series, 103½; Western Union Telegraph, 58.

The market for Petroleum and Mining shares was active and higher this afternoon. United States, 8.00; Consolidated Gregory Gold, 20.50; Grinnell Gold, 1.30; Quartz Hill, 3.80; Smith & Parmlee, 9.30. In Express Stocks Adams', 118.

The Post's money article says the loan market is inactive but easy and abundantly supplied at 5 per cent. Commercial paper more plenty, at 5@7. The stock market is more animated. Governments are in active demand. Railway shares active; Erie, Michigan Southern and Northwestern being chiefly in demand, closing the board there is considerable activity in Governments. U. S. Coupons, 1862, advanced to 105⅝; New York Central, 98⅝; Erie, 69½; Hudson river, 112⅝; Reading, 107⅝; Michigan Southern, 79½; Northwestern, 30½; Northwestern preferred, 66½; Rock Island, 94¾; Fort Wayne 96⅝; Canton, 54½; Cumberland, 40. Later—Erie sold at 67¾.

PITTSBURGH MARKETS.

There is no improvement to note in the tone of the produce markets, and as the demand for the leading commodities is restricted almost wholly to supplying the immediate wants of the retail trade, we have but few round lot operations to report.

GROCERIES—Market quiet but steady while prices have undergone no quotable change. Coffee may be quoted at 29 to 30, for prime to choice. Sugars steady at 13 to 14¼ for Brown; 18 for Crushed; 16½@17 for "B" and "A" Coffee and 16½ for C Extra. Molasses, 87 to 90 for prime Porto Rico. Rice, 10¼ to 11 for Rangoon.

GRAIN—Wheat is quoted firm at $2.35@2.40 for No. 1 Spring. Sale of 1 car prime Ohio Oats, in elevator, at 55. No. 1 Chicago Oats may be fairly quoted at 50, by the car load. Corn is dull and nominal at 75 to 80 for mixed and prime Yellow. Rye is quoted at $1 to 1.05. Sales of Buckwheat at $2. No movement in Barley.

PROVISIONS—Bacon is firm, with a fair demand at 16½ to 16¾ for Shoulders; 19¾ to 19½ for Ribbed Sides, and 25@25½ for Canvassed Sugar Cured Hams. Lard is dull but held pretty firmly at 22½@23. Small sales of Mess Pork at $33.50@33.75.

FLOUR—Is firm with a fair local demand but unchanged. Sales in a regular way from store at $10.50 to $11.50 for Spring Wheat; $12.50 to $13 for Winter Wheat; and $14 to $16 for fancy brands. Rye Flour is dull at $6.50 to $6.75.

FISH—Lake Herring are held pretty firmly at $5.25 to $5.50 per half bbl. White Fish, $9.25 to $9.50; No. 3 Large Mackeral $16 per barrel, and $8.37½ per half bbl.

EGGS—Dull, with a supply somewhat in excess of the demand, and prices have declined to 18@20 per doz.

CHEESE—Is in good supply and dull; Western Reserve is selling at 15@16.

SORGHUM—Continues dull though unchanged. Sales of prime at 50 to 55.

PIG LEAD—Is quoted 12.

FLAXSEED—Is wanted at $2.70@2.75.

SALT—Is quoted at $2¼, on track.

PITTSBURGH PETROLEUM MARKET

CRUDE—There is no improvement to note in the demand for Crude, and the market continues dull and depressed, and prices have still further declined. We now quote nominally at 12 to 12½, bbls returned; and 17 to 17½, bbls included—sale of 230 bbls, in bulk, (36 gravity) at 12½, while for barrelled oil, 12c seemed to be the best offer that could be obtained. It is said that one of our crude dealers is in great distress, in consequence of having made a sale some weeks ago at 14c, bbls returned, and he is now unable to bring to mind the name of the purchaser. He has (it is alleged) been taking the mountains ranged from twenty to twenty-five thousand dollars each. If their trips had been attended with the usual success they would have formed a hard scrabble to get out clear. In addition to their good luck, in the way of plenty of water, a large number of their freight bills were payable in gold dust, which glittering commodity has considerably advanced since the contracts were made.

MANUFACTURING CHEMISTS,

WITH

Protoxide of Iron,

Which has become so favorably known as a

Tonic and Restorative,

By Physicians and Invalids in all parts of the country.

The new preparation, "SARSAPARILLA IN COMBINATION WITH IODIDE OF LIME," presents one of the most prompt alterative agents in a form capable of exerting full action upon the system, and this in minute and pleasant doses. It is conceded that the alterative, resolvent, or tonic effects of Iodine, are exerted most decidedly when associated with other alteratives, in combination; and the Sarsaparilla seems to fulfil perfectly all the favorable requisitions.

The first effect usually observed when "SARSAPARILLA WITH IODIDE OF LIME" is taken, is an increase of appetite, showing that it has tonic properties of a marked character. Its alterative effects are manifest in its ready combination with the blood and tissues. Hale, scrofulous women and children improve rapidly under its use, and the vital functions assume a healthy condition.

Its admirable adapted to a large number of chronic or acute affections peculiar to children. It is suited to them, both by the mildness and effective of Medicinal effect and the pleasant, attractive form of the remedy. It may be given for a long period where constitutional influences are desired, and no repugnance, or disinclination to take the syrup, encountered. In White-Swellings, Hip-Joint Disease, and Distortions of the Spine, it should be given persistently, in moderate doses, until relief is obtained.

The accumulation of morbid matters in the system seems to become manifest and very troublesome. Lassitude, Headache, Boils, Costiveness, Loss of Appetite, Pains in the Joints, Indigestion, etc., are very common. Nothing ever devised is better adapted to exterminate or drive off these affections than this new combination of SARSAPARILLA WITH IODIDE OF LIME.

No preparation like it, or which approximates to it, exists.

Alterative, or Blood Purifier, has ever before been placed within the reach of invalids. Indeed, it is an entirely NEW and SCIENTIFIC combination, in no degree resembling anything hitherto employed.

The opinion of medical men concerning it, the description of its chemical character, therapeutic value, manner of use, etc., are given in a circular, which can be had at the store of any and all Brtiggists.

A CURE FOR INTEMPERANCE.

Dr. S. Cutter's Celebrated Stomach Bitters.

The greatest Nervine ever discovered. The addition, within the last ten years, of Dr. Cutter's Nervine Discovery to the English Stomach Bitters, a perfect antidote to intemperance. Previous to his discovery of the Nervine, this medicine was before the English public, celebrated as a Tonic and Alterative, in diseases of the Stomach and of the Bowels, and diseases arising from impedition of the blood. As a nervine is always the choice of the Stomach, in all persons addicted to the use of stimulants and narcotics, such as alcohol and malt liquors, opium, morphia, arsenic, tobacco, &c., as it removes the morbid appetite, or craving of the stomach for stimulants. It cures, in Headache, Neuralgia, and all nervous diseases, it has no equal as a Nervine.

Ten years use of the improved English Bitters in St. Bartholomew's Hospital, St. Mary's Hospital, Newgate and other Prisons, has established its reputation, as a cure for the intemperance, and gained for it the approval of the attending surgeons in all the hospitals and prisons throughout Great Britain, and is prescribed now by many physicians in private practice, for persons addicted to the use of stimulants and narcotics. For Nervous Prostration, St. Vitus' Dance, Epileptic Fits, Nervous Twitchings, and all Nervous diseases, it has no equal. Wholesale and Retail Agent.

PHILADELPHIA, July 5.—Pig Metal is in steady demand, at the advance, with sales of 200 tons No. 1 foundry at $46, 200 tons No. 2 at $44, and forge at $35@40 per ton. Scotch pig remains as last quoted. Blooms are dull, but prices are unchanged. Manufactured iron—no transactions are in small lots only, but prices are well maintained.

RIVER NEWS.

The river is still receding slowly at this point, and navigation may almost virtually be considered suspended. The pier marks last evening indicated but two feet, and even low water boats can take but very little freight on the present stage of water, and the rates are down to such a low point that it does not pay to go out with half a trip. The weather yesterday was oppressively hot in the sun and at times there were indications of rain.

There has been no arrivals or departures of the regular packets. The Kate Putnam was reported at "the Sisters" between Steubenville and Wheeling, on Wednesday, and it is possible that she may have got in last night.

The Camelia, Capt. Lytle, is still loading for St. Louis and the Upper Mississippi, and will probably be able to get off this afternoon. The Tahlequah is loading for Cincinnati.

The Brownsville packets appear to be doing a very good business, and this seems to be true of both lines. Excursion parties are of almost daily occurrence on these boats, and especially was this the case on the "Fourth." The hands of Reed's landing showed their partiality for the gay Fayette on Wednesday by literality covering her with wreaths of evergreen. The distinguishing feature of their handiwork was a mammoth harp, tastefully arranged and put together of foliage, and suspended between the chimneys of the Fayette. Capt. Cox, the popular and efficent commander of the boat, duly appreciates the kind consideration of the ladies of Reed's landing, and begs of them to accept his acknowledgments for favors received.

The Tarr, as is reported to have been on fire at St. Louis, on Tuesday morning, but was also covered in time to prevent serious damage.

COAL DEPARTED—PRICES ENHANCED.—Yesterday the tow boat Mevlin, which had been some time in retirement at West Louisville, started South with a light tow of coal for Island 63, in the Lower Mississippi. It was the ten tare of Olmstead & O'Connor, of this city, the tow including four barges of Pomeroy, and one of Pittsburgh coal, say some 60,000 bushels, or less.

The price of best Pittsburgh coal by the barge load has been advanced to 22c afloat, with sales of several barges. The retail price to city consumers has also been enhanced, the rate yesterday being 28 cents per bushel delivered.

The Leonora No. 2 is at the city wharf, having made the journey from Pittsburgh hunting & new trade—an opening.—Louisville Courier, 3d.

The Atlantic and Mississippi Steamship Company have decided to abandon the forwarding business of this city. Consequently they will not need wharfboats at Memphis, Napoleon and Vicksburg. The Company proposes to sell said wharfboats to parties who will carry on the business mentioned and act for the company as agents.

The St. Louis Dispatch says:

The estimated profits of the majority of the boats that went to the mountains ranged from twenty to twenty-five thousand dollars each. If their trips had been attended with the usual success they would have found a hard scrabble to get out clear. In addition to their good luck, in the way of plenty of water, a large number of their freight bills were payable in gold dust, which glittering commodity has considerably advanced since the contracts were made.
